

Karl de la Guerra, Inc.
A Global Protective Services Agency

Karl L. de la Guerra, PPS, CLSS
Chairman & Chief Executive Officer

Protective Services Division

The KDI Protective Services Division meets the needs of both individuals and corporations that require specialized protection for their personnel or assets. Whether in the United States or abroad, KDI provides a combination of regional agents with seasoned management staff from our corporate headquarters.

The Protective Education Group

The KDI Protective Education Group provides quality education in the area of protective services. Through a team of certified instructors, KDI provides instruction on such topics as executive protection, tactical operations, intelligence, improvised explosive device recognition, emergency medicine, law enforcement and security. Our Mobile Training Team has the ability to travel internationally in support of our educational mission.

Special Services Division

The KDI Special Services Division is the exclusive global manufacturer representative for professional apparel designer Samuel Stafford of Trinidad, West Indies. KDI, in partnership with The Stafford Group of Companies, LTD, is preparing for the much anticipated launch of Samuel's "Kick A-Z" line of tactical and duty apparel in the fall of 2013. KDI has established a global network of distributors to carry this unique line of extremely affordable and high quality professional clothing, gear and ballistic accessories.

Bodyguard Adventures Division

The KDI Bodyguard Adventures Division provides a unique opportunity to those from outside the protective services profession to experience the adventure of operating in the fast paced, international world of the professional bodyguard. Through their Airsoft Adventures & Corporate Team Building offerings, KDI instructors design scenarios for individuals and groups to work as a team, employ training and tactics, fly in a helicopter and compete against an opposing force to simulate an actual protective services operation.

One In Custody Productions

One In Custody Productions is a unique offering of KDI. Through a full service production studio, the educational courses of KDI are developed into short professional training videos, produced in both English and Spanish. Through the use of a global logistics network, these training materials have worldwide distribution among the protective services, law enforcement, military and security industries.

"We are an elite organization, designed to provide professional protective services on an international level. Our unit was not forged overnight. Years of dedicated service in our respective fields have created a moment in time that our team of specialists now serve as one. We are dedicated professionals, working and training together, who have honed our skills both here and abroad as soldiers, policemen, instructors, emergency medical providers, criminal investigators, counter-terrorism specialists, bodyguards and technology security experts, all possessing a wide variety of other refined skill sets. We now offer the unsurpassed peace of mind you deserve in a time of personal crisis. We are Professional, Discreet and Effective."
